Canada's Aya Cabinets Come To Cincinnati: European Design; Eco-Friendly; Traditional & Modern Styles

FAIRFIELD, OH – Cooknee Kitchen & Bath Design, a Cincinnati-area niche cabinet dealer and design service for builders, architects, designers and consumers announces the launch of Aya Kitchen & Bath® cabinets to the tri-state area. Cooknee will be Cincinnati's exclusive dealer to showcase Aya Cabinets – a comprehensive line of semi-custom, European design cabinets originating in Toronto, Canada.

"I'm thrilled to now offer Aya cabinets in the Cincinnati area," states Julie Savchenko, owner. "Aya is a sharp, organized company and the cabinets are excellent quality. So many customers are asking for European design, full-access cabinets like they see in magazines and on TV, but before now that particular style has been hard to find in this area."

According to Savchenko, Aya offers unique choices that many other mainstream brands don't have such as alder and an exotic "green" cabinet door collection featuring bamboo, zebrawood and wenge harvested from sustainable forests. Other unique finishes include a painted maple series of black, white, sea foam green or cream colors plus unusual stained finishes like chocolate and olive.

Furthermore, Savchenko adds that Aya is a leader in "green" cabinet production:

"Aya launched its Green Design program in 2007 to offer formaldehyde-free plywood cabinets and is constantly improving their cutting-edge recycling and waste reduction programs. Cincinnati area consumers who are concerned about the environment and seek a 'green' line of cabinets for their home have a terrific option with Aya Cabinets."

Consumers may also recognize the Aya brand name from HGTV's Divine Design with famous Canadian designer Candice Olsen. Olsen is a spokesperson for the Aya brand and uses their cabinets frequently in kitchen and bath remodel projects on her show.

Cooknee's showroom is open by appointment only and also features Sammy's Kitchen & Bath cabinets (www.sammyskitchen.com) from China which are also European design and are assembled onsite. Cooknee began business in May 2004 and currently works with several custom builders, architects and designers in the Cincinnati area. More information is available online at www.cooknee.com.
